California, an investigation of the effectiveness of a portfolio of global protected areas in preserving critical habitat, and climate change/energy policy analysis.

Institute of Bird Populations

May 2010 – Dec 2011

Composed a technical report on the condition and management of the avifauna within the southern Sierra Nevada National Parks, as part of the Sequoia and Kings Canyon Natural Resource Condition Assessment and NPS Inventory and Monitoring program.

Davis, CA

UCSC Assistant Biologist

Dec 2007 – March 2008

Conducted avian point count surveys to assess impacts of various configurations of natural, restored and agricultural lands on the presence of beneficial, insectivorous birds in Sacramento Valley walnut orchards. Collected data was used in a PhD dissertation and multiple publications.

Chico, CA

PRBO (currently Point Blue) Conservation Sciences

April – July 2008

Monitored an avian community and nest-vegetation associations as indicators of restoration success within a riparian area of Shasta County, CA. Resulted in two reports to funders and stakeholders.
